

"Promise" / M. Dukurs

a promise i will make is to follow my heart and not fall apart it's a promise i will make till i reach my destination

no matter what promise i make if i breake it i'll wipe the slate clean renew my commitment and hope that you'll forget and forgive when i'm falling falling through the series of mistakes and imperfections big promise, big failure i'll better just keep running and running till i reach my destination

promise i will make is to fallow my heart and not fall apart
it's a promise i will make cause i'm sick of betrayal

is just to move on and never quit it's a promise i will make

i will always keep in mind that i cannot control everything around me cause it's utterly wrong so many days are wasted comparing ourselves to others wishing to be someone we're not
big promise, big failure
